International Mediation Training (online)

ICC and CI Arb Thailand has organized this special training course for individuals and organizations involved in international mediation. This course is facilitated by international mediation professionals from Australia, France, Hong Kong, Singapore, and Thailand.

Through this training, participants will have the opportunity to access training at an international level. The training program, which meets international standards, prepares lawyers, parties and mediators to practice both domestically and internationally, working with companies and organizations at home and around the world.

Participants will gain a better understanding of employing negotiation skills in the mediation, mediation trends since the entering into force of the Singapore Convention on Mediation in 2020, the interplay of mediation and arbitration, mediation advocacy, the ICC Mediation Rules and their use in construction disputes, and mediation of multiparty disputes (such as those between joint venture parties).

ICC Managing Director for the FDI Mediation Moot in Japan

ICC International Commercial Mediation and Competition

✉ cyrillam@yahoo.com

Cyril is currently a managing director for the FDI Mediation Moot in Japan and was a project manager for the ICC International Commercial Mediation Competition in Hong Kong for 2019–2020. He also volunteered as a supervisor at the IMMSG Singapore 2021, IIMC Colombo 2022 (the first investor-state mediation competition of its kind), as well as the recently concluded 17th ICC Mediation Competition in Paris last month.

Cyril is at present a researcher in dispute resolution and blockchain technologies. He has a diverse corporate and commercial background in engineering, mobile telecoms, retail, real estate, and regulated financial services. He has also acted as a company director and a cross-border estate executor.

Cyril just completed an LLM in arbitration and dispute resolution at the City University of Hong Kong and hopes to earn his fellowship at the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators in the not-too-distant future. Going back further, he graduated with a master's degree in electrical and electronic engineering from Imperial College London and an MBA from Warwick Business School, both in the United Kingdom.

ALOYSIUS GOH, Singapore,

Founder and Chief Executive Officer at Sage Mediation Pte Ltd

✉ aloysiusgoh@sagemediation.sg

Certified as an international mediator, Aloysius has a strong track record of achieving practical solutions to complex commercial disputes. His mediation clients include listed companies, as well as charities, nongovernmental organisations, and public sector entities.

In addition to having served as the chief executive officer of the Singapore International Mediation Centre, Aloysius was the general counsel of the Singapore Institute of Technology and set up and led the Mediation Unit of the Singapore Ministry of Health.

Aloysius currently serves as a member of the International Mediation Institute's Appraisal Committee and the Madrid International Arbitration Centre's Mediator Appointment Committee. He is also on the UN Green Climate Fund's Panel of Mediators.

A National University of Singapore (NUS) Law School research scholar and a Public Service Commission humanities scholar, Aloysius has a master's degree in law from the NUS and a master's degree in education leadership from Boston College Lynch Education School.
